

Seventh Judicial District.

COMPANY SHIPS, N. C., June 1, 1874.
At a Convention held to-day, Hon. John Kerr, of Caswell, was nominated as a candidate for Judge of the Seventh District, by acclamation, and Mr. F. N. Strudwick, of Orange, was nominated for Solicitor on the fourth ballot.

NORTH CAROLINA.

NOMINATIONS FOR CONGRESS IN THE FOURTH AND FIFTH DISTRICTS.

RALPH, June 3—Night.—In the Fourth Congressional District Convention, held here to-day, Capt. J. J. Davis, of Franklin, was nominated.

In the Fifth District Convention, held at Goldsboro, to-day, Messrs. Scales, of Guilford, was unanimously nominated.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 1, 1874.

Editor of the Daily Journal:

I observe in your issue of yesterday a circular containing a report according to the proceedings of an "Indignation Meeting" of the members of the congregation of St. Thomas' (Roman Catholic) Church in this city, the object of which was to censure the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in North Carolina for one of his alleged acts.

As it certainly cannot be claimed that Bishop Atkinson is responsible to the congregation of St. Thomas' (Roman Catholic) Church in this city, the object of which was to censure the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in North Carolina for one of his alleged acts, it is calculated to cause little surprise and regret.

It is a confession that the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in North Carolina, is not altogether well-founded. But as you have seen fit to publish their proceedings, you will not think it expedient to publish the proceedings of the congregation of St. Thomas' (Roman Catholic) Church in this city, the object of which was to censure the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in North Carolina for one of his alleged acts.

It is required by the Canons of our Church that every Bishop shall deliver a charge to the Clergy of his Diocese. The subject of that charge should clearly be something of immediate interest to the Clergy, and which would be the fruit of thinking and acting. Such is, to our branch of the Church, at the present time, the matter of "Sacramental Confession."

Certain persons are earnestly engaged in endeavoring to engrain this doctrine upon the minds of the laity, and as the Bishop believes this sort of confession to be a pernicious innovation in our Church, he has endeavored to resist it. The charge was delivered to the Clergy, and to laymen, even of our own communion, was obliged to hear it, although it was not received by the lay members of the Convention would do so.

The abstract of it, however, was published in your paper, and it does not complain, although it was done without consultation with the Bishop, that the charge would have been objected to the publication as it was made. In that charge he reasoned against sacramental confession, on the grounds of Scripture, of the testimony of ancient authors, and of its practical results.

In estimating these last, it was necessary to take into consideration the countries where it is generally practiced, and the best known of these latter to be Roman Catholic countries.

It was only in this incidental way that the Roman Catholic system was referred to at all, but nothing was said of Roman Catholics as individuals.

Individuals may live under a system embodying religious errors, and yet not attain to the state of impenitent sanctity. Had he not then a right to speak of the Roman Catholic system, as being in this respect erroneous and mistaken? Had he not a right to speak of the Roman Catholic system, as being in this respect erroneous and mistaken? Had he not a right to speak of the Roman Catholic system, as being in this respect erroneous and mistaken?

And we may ask, do not Roman Catholics Divines, without censure and without notice, use this as one of their staple arguments? Are they not every day descending on the errors of Protestantism—its supposed tenets, its supposed infidelity, its supposed immorality, and its supposed degradation? Are they not every day descending on the errors of Protestantism—its supposed tenets, its supposed infidelity, its supposed immorality, and its supposed degradation?

The question recurring on the proposition to amend, the vote was taken and the amendment was adopted by a large majority.

The hour for the installation of the Grand Officers having arrived, the Grand High Priest announced his appointments as follows:

J. E. Clark, Grand Royal Arch Captain.
J. W. Gulick, Grand Master 3d Val.

A. W. Wronski, Grand Tiler.
J. H. Sparks, Grand Tiler.

Who, together with the elected officers, were duly installed by G. H. P., Alfred Martin.

Comp. J. B. Netherly and D. W. Bell, with the Grand Secretary, were appointed to conduct the printing of the proceedings of this Convention.

The Grand Chapter then closed in solemn form.

BEAUFORT.

Opening of the Canyass.

BEAUFORT, N. C., June 1st.

The largest political meeting ever assembled in Beaufort County was held here to-day. It was held at the residence of Mr. A. L. DeLoach, and was attended by a large number of the Conservative-Democratic voters of the county and a fitting reception for the distinguished guests.

Hon. A. M. Waddell spoke first, making a stirring appeal to the white population. His speech made a fine impression and was enthusiastically received.

Hon. George Davis held the vast majority of the votes, and was elected. We had never before heard him and can now appreciate the enormous popularity of this gentleman.

Cartwright will do his full duty for Waddell, McKoy, Norment and the cause.

Grand Chapter.

The 26th Annual Convocation of the Most Excellent Grand Royal Arch Chapter of North Carolina assembled at St. John's Hall, in this city, last evening.

The Chapter adjourned to meet again this morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, 10 O'CLOCK.

June 3d A. J., 2404.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

HOPE'S CONSERVATIVE EX. COM.

New Hanover County, N. C., May 30, 1874.

The members of the newly-appointed Executive Committee of the Conservative-Democratic party met at the residence of Mr. A. L. DeLoach, and were requested to meet at the Star office, in Wilmington, on Monday, the 8th day of June, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Every member is requested to be present. WM. H. BERNARD, Chairman Executive Committee, DeWid.

Col. McKoy's Acceptance.

The following correspondence sufficiently explains itself:

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 7, 1874.

DEAR SIR:—As President officer of the Convention of the Democratic Conservative party which met in this place on the 5th inst., to nominate a candidate for Judge for the 4th Judicial District, it was made my duty to inform you that you were unanimously chosen as its nominee.

Very truly yours, JOHN D. TAYLOR, President of the Convention.

CLINTON, May 30, 1874.

Col. John D. Taylor, President of the Democratic-Conservative Convention of the Fourth Judicial District.

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 7th of May, informing me that you had received a unanimous nomination for the Judgeship of this District, would have received an earlier response, but for the delay in the mail.

To conceal that pride which I feel at such a manifestation of regard, I have delayed in replying to you, but I am now glad to do so, and to do so in the best of this proud District, would be to do injustice to my own feelings, yet, gross injustice to you and to the cause of the people.

To imitate their virtues, emulate their examples and to elevate the bench will be my earnest hope and endeavor.

For the handsome manner in which you, dear Sir, have communicated to me the action of the Convention, accept my warmest thanks and believe me, ever,

Your obedient servant, ALFRED A. MCKOY.

COTTON.

The dullness and depression which has been the lot of the cotton market since the close of the previous week has prevailed throughout the past week.

There has been no speculative demand and the market has been very quiet. The receipts for the week were as follows:

GRAIN.

The market has been quiet and unchanged during the past week and there are few new features to note.

These were placed on market and were sold at $1.02 from vessel. The market for cargo, however, is very quiet and easier at the close of the week.

Store quotations have been steady and quiet, with no change in the receipts for the week 1,623 bushels against 1,961 bushel for last week, showing a decrease of 338 bushels.
